(XLIVth YEAR.) THE (No. 2268.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1789.

LONDON, February 18.

EVERY day, nay, every hour, give us more and more favourable ſymptoms. Twelve days have paſſed without the ſmalleſt relapſe; our good king is almoſt himſelf again.—His appetite is good; he ſleeps well. His ſtrength is ſo much returned that he can bear a walk of three hours.—He ſees the queen and princeſſes every night for two hours. He is allowed to converſe with his artiſts, with his gardeners, with his workmen. He once aſked Dr. Willis ſome queſtions about politics—who humbly begged of his majeſty not to talk, or even to ſuffer himſelf to think, on that ſubject at preſent. The king promiſed he would not.

The king's recovery is now, to all appearance, advancing very faſt. He has regained his appetite, ſleeps well, and walks undiſturbed. His pulſe is reduced to ſixty-ſeven. Its uſual rate, when he is in perfect health, is ſixty-four. His converſation is rational. He is ſenſible of his ſituation, and perceives his own recovery. He ſometimes enters upon particular ſubjects, and ſtops himſelf with ſaying, "I muſt not go on: My head will not do for theſe things yet; but it will ſoon." The day before yeſterday his majeſty commanded his aſtronomers to attend him in his obſervatory at Kew.—He compared his time-pieces of the ſun, and computed how much each had loſt or gained time, and went through this buſineſs as regularly and exactly as he had ever done in the moſt perfect health; ſo that we are not without ſanguine hopes of ſeeing him ſoon reſume the reins of government.

Feb. 20. His majeſty lately in walking through the gardens at Kew, ſuddenly conceived a ſtrong inclination to go up the pagoda. The attendants remonſtrated againſt this deſire, but his majeſty perſevered, and inſiſted upon having it gratified. An apprehenſion that his majeſty might conceive ſome raſh intentions, if ſuffered to go up, induced the attendants to exert their ſtrength to prevent him; and when he found that he could not overcome them, he threw himſelf ſuddenly on the ground, declaring he would not quit that place. Fearing that the damp graſs would be injurious to him, four of the attendants took him up, two holding his arms, and the others his legs, and carried him home.

NEW-YORK, April 25.

On Thurſday about two o'clock, arrived in town, the moſt illuſtrious GEORGE WASHINGTON, preſident of the United States. His excellency ſlept at Woodbridge on Wedneſday night, and on Thurſday morning arrived at Mr. Boudinot's, where he breakfaſted, along with the gentlemen compoſing the committee, appointed by congreſs, &c. &c.——About twelve o'clock he was conducted on board of the barge prepared for his reception, the beauty of which met with his higheſt approbation; he was rowed acroſs the bay by thirteen ſkilful pilots, Thomas Randall, Eſq; acting as cockſwain. His excellency's barge was accompanied by a barge containing the heads of the great departments of the United States, viz. the honourable the board of treaſury, the miniſter for foreign affairs, and the ſecretary at war.

There never prehaps was a ſcene in which univerſal pleaſure appeared more than on his approaching the battery and Murray's wharf. The Spaniſh packet, which lay with her colours only diſplayed to ſalute him as he paſſed, on the firing of a gun, diſplayed, in a moment, every flag known in foreign nations. The ſhip North-Carolina, belonging to Arnold H. Dohrman, Eſq; was decorated in like manner, and all the veſſels in the harbour had their flags flying. On the barge's paſſing the packet, ſhe fired a ſalute of thirteen guns, which was returned by the ſame number from the battery. After which ſhe advanced to the ſtairs erected and decorated at the bottom of Wall-ſtreet, for his excellency's reception. His landing without doubt, was beyond deſcription; univerſal joy diffuſed itſelf through every order of the beholders; there was no conteſt in rank—the only thing which they tried to ſucceed, was, who could appear the moſt pleaſed. It was remarked of a venerable old gentleman nigh the place of landing, who, on the approach of the barge, expreſſed himſelf nearly as follows:—"I have beheld him when he commanded the American army; I ſaw him at the concluſion of the peace, retiring to his primeval habitation; and now I behold him returning to take the chair of preſidency. I have not now another wiſh, but that he may die as he lived, THE BELOVED OF HIS COUNTRY."

Theſe are the generous ſentiments that filled the admiring throng, and diffuſed themſelves in the breaſt of every lover of the ſaviour of our land.

His excellency, on landing, was received and congratulated by his excellency the governor of this ſtate, and the officers of the ſtate and corporation, and the following proceſſion was formed:—1ſt, colonel Lewis accompanied by two officers, and followed by the troop of dragoons, commanded by captain Stakes. The grenadiers headed by captain Scriba. Muſic. Infantry of the brigade, under the command of captains Swartwout and Steddiford. Grenadiers under captain Harſin. Colonel Bauman at the head of the artillery. Muſic. General Malcolm and aid. Officers of the militia. Committee of congreſs. The PRESIDENT, ſupported by governor Clinton. The preſident's ſuite. Officers of the ſtate. Mayor and aldermen of New-York. The French and Spaniſh ambaſſadors in their carriages. The whole order followed by an amazing concourſe of citizens.

The proceſſion advanced through Queen-ſtreet to the houſe fitted up for the reception of his excellency, where it terminated. After which he was conducted, without form, to the houſe of governor Clinton, with whom his excellency dined. In the evening the houſes of the citizens were brilliantly illuminated.

Yeſterday the honourable the ſenate and houſe of repreſentatives waited on his excellency the preſident to congratulate him on his ſafe arrival at the ſeat of government.

April 27. On Saturday the chamber of commerce met at the Coffee-houſe about half after eleven o'clock, in conſequence of a ſpecial call from the preſident.—From the Coffee-houſe they proceeded in form to the houſe of his excellency the preſident of the United States, headed by John Broome, Theophylact Beach and John Murray, Eſquires.

On their arrival at the preſident's they were conducted into the audience room, and upon his excellency's entering, Mr. Broome, the preſident of the chamber, addreſſed him to the following effect:—That he had the honour, in the name of that corporation, to congratulate his excellency upon his ſafe arrival in this city, under the dignified character of preſident of the United States, and alſo to inform him, that the members of the chamber felt a ſingular pleaſure in having a gentleman of his diſtinguiſhed talents appointed to to preſide over the union; and further aſſured him, that it would be their uniform endeavour, by every conſtitutional exertion in their power, to render his excellency's adminiſtration proſperous and happy.

To which his excellency replied to the following effect:—

That he was greatly obliged to the gentlemen of the chamber for that mark of their politeneſs and reſpect, and that he ſhould be happy at all times, as far as lay with him, to promote the intereſt of commerce.

After his excellency's reply, he was introduced by the preſident of the chamber to every member preſent.

On Thurſday laſt arrived here the ſchooner Columbia, P. Freneau, maſter, in 8 days from Charleſton. In this veſſel came paſſenger Dr. King, lately from South-America, with a collection of natural curioſities, particularly a male and female Ourang-Outang, (or man of the woods) remarkable for its ſtriking ſimilarity to the human ſpecies. We hear the doctor intends, in a few days, to exhibit his collection in this city.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.

Extract of a letter from Havre-de-Grace, dated January 29, 1789, to a gentleman in Boſton.

"Our worthy friend, THOMAS JEFFERSON, Eſq; ambaſſador of the United States of America at the court of France, hath obtained from government to recal the prohibition on American whale and ſpermaceti oil, imported into France in American ſhips. Thus all ſorts of foreign oils (the American only excepted) are prohibited—which ſurely is a very great favour granted by our government to the American fiſhery." [This letter confirms the account of a bounty on wheat and flour, as mentioned ſome time ſince.]

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in St. Croix, to his friend in this city, dated April 5.

"Times are very dull here. There has been no rain theſe ſix months paſt. The canes are burnt up, and ſtock dying for want of water. Three or four gallons of water command a moſt extravagant price."

HOUSE of REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES.

TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1789.

The houſe went into a committee of the whole on the ſtate of the union.

Mr. Page in the chair.

A motion of Mr. Fitzſimons, to allow a drawback on goods re-ſhipped, was agreed to.

It was reſolved, That all veſſels built within the United States, and owned wholly by citizens thereof, and on all veſſels foreign built, but owned by the citizens of the United States, a duty of ſix cents per tun ſhould be laid.

RICHMOND, April 25.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Bermuda, to his friend in Norfolk, dated April 2.

"By captain Gilbert, the bearer of this, you will learn of our distress for want of all kinds of provisions. There has not been in the whole island, one bushel of corn for sale for 16 days past, captain George from Baltimore, brought in 17 days ago, 400 bushels of corn, which sold immediately at 6s. 8d. per bushel, he also brought in 360 barrels of flour, common and superfine, which sold at 8 and 9 dollars per barrel. No vessel has arrived here with provisions since captain George—and no vessel belonging to the island is expected to relieve us. A great number of poor people, have been for ten days past, obliged to live on the greens of the field. Governor Hamilton by advice of his council, has opened the port of Bermuda, to all foreign vessels whatever, for thirty days, to be computed from the 30th day of March, loaded with bread, corn or flour. He also allows, for three months, the importation of salted provisions from any foreign port whatever, in vessels belonging to these islands. It is said, that if any foreign vessel should come here after the time limitted by proclamation they will be allowed to dispose of their cargo, if they can prove they set out with an intent to come here. If any vessels be ready to sail from Norfolk, with provisions, advise them to call at Bermuda.

FREDERICKSBURG, April 30.

A letter from London, received by a gentleman in this town dated March 4, says, "His majesty, almost unexpectedly, began to recover about the middle of last month, and has continued to to do ever since; so that on the 28th ult. his physicians pronounced him to be without complaint; and he is expected to meet parliament or address them to-morrow."

Another letter, dated March 7, says, "The king has put off the business of parliament to the 10th, when something respecting the regency may transpire, with other interesting matters to individuals."

Another of the same date says, "For three weeks past, the king's reason hath gradually returned, and at this time his sound judgment is restored, which has occasioned greater joy throughout the kingdom than any thing I ever remember. The physicians give it as their opinion, that this malady proceeded entirely from his drinking too great a quantity of Cheltenham water, which flew up into the brain, and in confirmation of this being the cause, we have two or three instances of gentlemen who drank this water last summer, that have been affected this winter in the very same manner, and who are now also recovered."

OBSERVING a number of debtors to the ſtate, as well as other individuals, are often in want of ſome kind of certificates, and at a loſs where to get them on proper terms for their money, and the holders of certificates when in want of caſh for them, are likewiſe at a loſs for a market, for want of ſome particular place to apply, where they could be on a certainty of getting an exchange on reaſonable terms.

The ſubſcriber being well acquainted with the different kind of certificates and their paſſing value, has induced him to offer his ſervice to provide, and inform thoſe that do or may want, that by lodging the needful he will ſupply them with certificates, or caſh, at a ſhort notice, on reaſonable terms, on paying a moderate commiſſion. There being a number, who have payments to make in certificates to the treaſury, that live at a conſiderable diſtance, many of whom wiſh to make payments as they provide money for that purpoſe, are prevented for want of the certificates, and not being convenient to ride 50 or 100 miles to get them and make a ſmall payment; thoſe who are thus ſituated that wiſh to be provided with certificates, and have them placed to their credit, by forwarding the money at any time may depend on being furniſhed with certificates, and payment made to their orders, on as good terms as if they were preſent, by their

ST. JOHN's COLLEEG.

THE viſitors and governors of St. John's College having, on the 10th of May, 1786, authoriſed Samuel Chaſe, Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanſon, or any two of them, to appoint a perſon to collect the money, them or thereafter to be ſubſcribed: we, the ſaid Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanſon, did accordingly, ſoon after, appoint Archibald Golder, of the city of Annapolis. Of this appointment the public was duly notified. The collector adverriſed times and places for his attendance in ſeveral counties. He attended agreeably to his notice, and moreover made perſonal application to many of the ſubſcribers. But, although the ſtipulated periods of payment have long ſince elapſed, not more than 1300l. out of 11,024l. have been paid.

We have this day renewed our agreement with the collector. Subſcribers who have not yet paid their firſt third, are requeſted, without delay, to pay the ſame, and ſuch further part, as they ſhall think proper, to the ſaid Archibald Golder, or to Benjamin Harwood, treaſurer. They will be called on, within a reaſonable time, to make the ſecond and third payments, the laſt of which was due on the 1ſt of June, 1787.—All legal methods of compulſion would be as diſagreeable to the viſitors as diſgraceful to ſubſcribers. But it is the indiſpenſable duty of truſtees to adopt ſuch modes of exacting payment, as ſhall be found neceſſary, or expedient.

The building of the college was projected, and begun on a plan, in ſome meaſure, proportioned to its nominal funds. For a conſiderable length of time, it has been ſuſpended, for want of money.—The gentlemen who ſubſcribed liberally, and paid with punctuality, had a right to expect, in the courſe of four years, that the work would be complete, and the ſeminary beginning to flouriſh. They cannot but remember the generous patriotic ardor, with which the inſtitution was commenced. They have ſuſtained an injury from all thoſe whoſe neglect or failure has retarded its progreſs, and, for their ſatisfaction, as well as for other purpoſes, a liſt of ſubſcribers names, with the ſums ſubſcribed, and the ſums paid, will probably be publiſhed as ſoon as conveniently may be, after the 12th day of May next.

At a meeting of the viſitors and governors, on the 5th of July, 1786, the ſecond Tueſdays in February, May, Auguſt and November, were appointed for their quarterly meetings. A ſufficient number hath not, ſince that period, been convened, although extraordinary meetings have been requeſted, by public advertiſement and perſonal ſolicitation. As the repeated diſappointments of thoſe who have repaired to Annapolis, at their own expence, for the ſole purpoſe of meeting the viſitors, may perhaps, without ſome particular notice, prevent their attendance, at the next regular ſtated meeting, we take the liberty of moſt earneſtly entreating every gentleman, who has accepted the truſt of a viſitor and governor of St. John's College, to attend on the ſecond Tueſday of May next. As the general court will be held on that day, we preſume no time more convenient can be mentioned.

It is perhaps proper to inform the public, that the number of viſitors cannot exceed twenty-four, that not leſs than nine can form the corporation; that it has never exceeded eleven; that by death it is reduced to ten; that not leſs than ſeven have authority to act; and that only two, at this time, reſide at Annapolis. It is almoſt needleſs to add, that matters of the greateſt importance await their conſideration. It is much to be wiſhed, that the number were completed or increaſed. Whether this object may not be attained, provided nine ſhall be convened, will be debated at their next meeting; and we hope that, if any gentleman be diſpoſed to reſign, he will at leaſt beſtow his endeavours, that the body may be firſt enabled to ſupply his place.

NICHOLAS CARROLL,
ALEXANDER CONTEE HANSON.

Annapolis, February 9, 1789. 12X

April 12, 1789.

RAN away on Saturday the 11th inſtant, a NEGRO MAN, named NEHEMIAH, a very black fellow, down look, battle hammed, under ſix feet high, a great drunkard, and plays on the violin tolerably well; it is uncertain what cloaths he took with him, only a great coat of Bath coating, and of a dark gray colour; he rode off a ſmall bay horſe, with a ſprig tail, with his two hind feet white up to the fetlock, and a ſtar in his forehead. Whoever ſecures the ſaid fellow, ſo that I get him again, ſhall be paid TEN DOLLARS, and for the horſe only, five dollars. The above negro went off with a yellow man of Mr. Richard Darnall's, and it is ſuſpected have made for Baltimore-town. BENNETT DARNALL.
